

High Fives!

For those who go the extra mile!

The Health Department often gets calls and emails from people seeking help or information about other county departments or even outside resources. Sandee Schunk and Michele Schmidt go out of their way to help people get to the right department or resource. Recently, I received an email from a person who was very anxious about health care coverage related to BadgerCare. I sent the email onto Sandy Torgerson at the Workforce Development Center. Within an hour I received an email back from Sandy stating she had called the person and answered their questions. Now that's great customer service!! I also received a reply from the person seeking help thanking us for our help... Gail Scott
