The Tyranena Brewing Company is teaming up with Jefferson County Parks for a fundraiser in support of the Jefferson County Parks system.

On Thursday, Aug. 20 from 5-8 p.m., Korth Park will showcase Rock Lake and also the county's only microbrewery for a special event, "Brew with a View."

The Jefferson County Parks Department is tasked with preserving, maintaining and improving the county's natural resources, and as with most things these days, the mission has a growing price tag.

"Brew with a View" will encompass the spirit of a traditional German biergarten but with a modern twist.

There will be outdoor space, with picnic tables and fresh air, where patrons can gather to sip a variety of locally brewed craft beers from Tyranena Brewing Company, listen to music and enjoy a meal.

Cold & Wayward, a local duo consisting of Lake Mills' Ryan Gallagher and Madison native Jim Lottridge, will perform a blend of bluegrass and modern Americana from 6-8 p.m.

Throughout the evening, El Grito Taqueria, a food truck from Madison will be serving up tacos with traditional ingredients.

The location for the fundraiser will be at the Hilltop Pavilion at Korth Park, Korth Lane, Lake Mills.
