

Tyranena Honored by Parks Department

Matt Gardner | Posted: Friday, September 16, 2016 6:15 am

The Jefferson County Parks Department would like to thank Tyranena Brewing Company for supporting the Jefferson County Parks Department.

With shrinking budgets becoming more and more common, local units of government are having to come up with new and creative ways to bridge the gap between what they have, and what they need to meet the needs of our growing communities.

The importance of parks and open space to the vitality and health of our communities has been highlighted by Tyranena Brewing Company, when they teamed up with the Parks Department to host a series of fundraisers coined Brew with a View. Three Brew With a Views were held at Korth Park in Lake Mills this year.

“When Parks Director, Joe Nehmer, approached Tyranena about teaming up for this fundraiser it was literally a no-brainer,” says Stacey Schraufnagel, manager and event coordinator for Tyranena Brewing Company. “Jefferson County is ripe with natural beauty. And we want to see its parks thrive with everyone enjoying the land and lakes here for years to come.”

Brew With a View

Shown above at the final Brew With a View of the summer, from left to right, are: Augie Tietz County Board Supervisor and Parks Committee Chair, James Schroeder County Board Chair, Rob Larson, founder and brewer at Tyranena Brewing Company, Stacey Schraufnagel, front operations manager at Tyranena Brewing Company and Steve Nass, County Board Vice Chair and Parks Committee Representative.